Alder Investment Management Limited

Report of the directors for the year ended 31 December 2012

The directors present their report together with the audited financial statements of Alder Investment Management Limited (the "company") for the year ended 31 December 2012

Results and dividends

The profit and loss account is set out on page 6 and shows the loss for the year

The directors do not recommend the payment of a dividend (2011 £Nil)

Principal activity

The principal activity of the company is the management of clients' investments. The company is authorised and regulated by the Financial Services Authority Limited ("FSA")

Review of the business and future developments

The company's loss on ordinary activities after taxation for the year ended 31 December 2012 amounted to £149,722 (2011 £6,613 profit). The company's trading results are stated on page 6 of the financial statements

Alder provides services only to members of one extended family, together with trusts and pension schemes related to that family's interests. It does not actively seek new clients from outside the family. It aims to provide a consistently high level of service at a very competitive cost compared with alternative providers. During 2012 there was no significant change in the number of clients but turnover increased by 5.3% following the decision by the board to increase fees broadly in line with anticipated escalation of costs together with increased revenue from portfolios where fees are linked to funds under management.

Alder maintains close links with the family, many of whom hold ordinary shares in the parent company. In view of the close ties between Alder and the family the client base is considered to be very strong which, together with the comparatively low charges and maintenance of high standards of service, reduces competitive risks. Nevertheless the board is not complacent and actively confirms that clients are receiving a level of service that matches their needs and expectations.

The company has maintained a comfortable excess of FSA regulatory capital during the year. The board's policy of maintaining the balance sheet strength should ensure that capital continues to exceed requirements by a significant margin.

Details of the company's unaudited Pillar 3 disclosures, required under Chapter 11 of the Financial Services Authority's Prudential Sourcebook for Banks, Building Societies and Investment Firms are available on www.pillar3.eu

The company has purchased and maintained throughout the year directors' and officers' liability insurance in respect of itself and its directors. The company is of such a scale that the business model is not complex and the risks inherent in the business are effectively managed. Fees are generally fixed in advance and are not subject to investment market movements. Where fees are a function of market values these are calculated monthly to reduce the effect of any short term fluctuations. In addition substantial reserves have been established to absorb the consequences of more sustained periods of reduced levels of income from such market value related income. Costs largely derive from property and payroll, which can usually be forecast with a relatively high degree of accuracy. The company's performance is primarily measured in terms of comparison to such financial forecasts. The assets are highly liquid and cash balances are deposited with highly rated UK banks and available at short notice. There are no borrowings and no significant exposure to foreign currency risk. Naturally there are always operational risks but these are controlled through the establishment of comprehensive systems and procedures, including disaster recovery arrangements, and mitigated further by insurance policies, where appropriate.

The company expects to continue to trade successfully in 2013 with substantially the same client base and staffing.

Directors' responsibilities

The directors are responsible for preparing the directors' report, annual report and the financial statements in accordance with applicable law and regulations

Company law requires the directors to prepare financial statements for each financial year. Under that law the directors have elected to prepare the financial statements in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (United Kingdom Accounting Standards and applicable law). Under company law the directors must not approve the financial statements unless they are satisfied that they give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period.

In preparing these financial statements, the directors are required to

- select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently,
- make judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable and prudent,
- state whether applicable UK Accounting Standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the financial statements, and
- prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business.

The directors are responsible for keeping adequate accounting records that are sufficient to show and explain the company's transactions and disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

Notes forming part of the financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2012

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with applicable accounting standards. The following principal accounting policies have been applied:

Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention.

Depreciation

Depreciation is charged on a straight line basis at a rate of 25% a year so as to write off the cost of tangible assets, less their estimated residual values, over the expected useful economic lives of the assets concerned. Computer software costs are expensed as incurred.

Fixed asset investments

Fixed asset investments are carried at cost. Provision is made for any impairment in value as appropriate. Interest income from investments is recognised on the accruals basis.

Turnover

Turnover represents the value of investment management and related services rendered in the ordinary course of business during the year, excluding value added tax, and is accounted for on the accruals basis.

Leases

All leases are treated as operating leases. Their annual rentals are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Pension scheme

As more fully explained in note 16, the costs of providing defined benefit pensions within the main Western United Group Pension Scheme are treated as if they were to a defined contributions scheme. Accordingly the costs of the scheme charged to the profit and loss account are the contributions payable to the scheme for the accounting period on the accruals basis. The costs of providing defined benefit pensions within the Unfunded Executive Pension Arrangement are calculated using the actuarial basis and are disclosed in accordance with FRS 17.

Expenses

Expenses are accounted for on the accruals basis. Costs in respect of operating leases are charged on a straight line basis over the lease term.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognised as a liability or an asset if transactions have occurred at the balance sheet date that give rise to an obligation to pay more taxation, or a right to pay less taxation, in future. An asset is only recognised to the extent that it is more likely than not that there will be a transfer of economic benefits in future. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Foreign currencies

Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated into sterling at rates of exchange ruling at the end of the financial year. Fees receivable in foreign currencies are recognised in the profit and loss account at the rates of exchange ruling at the date they were invoiced and foreign exchange differences are taken to the profit and loss account on the date the fees are received.

16 Pension scheme

(a) Western United Group Pension Scheme

Alder Investment Management Limited and its parent company participated throughout the year in the Western United Group Pension Scheme ("the Scheme"), a contracted out contributory scheme which provides defined benefits based on length of pensionable service and pensionable salary at retirement. The rate of contribution to the Scheme is determined by the Scheme's trustees on the advice of a qualified actuary and amounted to 21% of pensionable salaries in 2012 (2011: 22%). The costs of benefits being earned is expected to increase (as a proportion of pensionable pay) as the membership ages, as the level of new entrants is relatively low.

While the contributions may be affected by a surplus or deficit in the Scheme, the company is not able to identify its own share of the underlying assets and liabilities of the Scheme on a consistent and reliable basis. Accordingly, in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard 17 "Retirement Benefits", the contributions are accounted for as if it were a defined contribution scheme and therefore contributions payable to the Scheme for the accounting period are charged to the profit and loss account as they arise.

The total pension cost charged in the 2012 financial statements was £174,046 (2011: £184,442). There were no outstanding contributions at the balance sheet date (2011: nil).

Formal actuarial valuations of the Scheme are carried out at least every three years, the last of which was performed as at 31 December 2009, using the projected unit method. This valuation has been updated to 31 December 2012 by an independent actuary in accordance with FRS 17 for disclosing pension costs in the Western United Investment Company Limited accounts. The major assumptions used by the actuary for the FRS17 calculations were a discount rate of 4.45% pa, increases to pensions in payment of 2.95% pa or 2.05% pa (where guaranteed) as appropriate and price inflation of 3.05% pa corresponding to RPI and 2.35% pa corresponding to CPI. The updated valuation measured the value of the liabilities as £404.4m which, compared with assets of £481.9m at market value, gave a surplus of £77.5m. Of this surplus, £52.4m can be regarded as recoverable, and so recognised in the Western United Investment Company Limited accounts. Further details of these FRS 17 calculations are included in that company's accounts.

(b) Unfunded Executive Pension Arrangement

The unfunded executive pension arrangement is an unfunded scheme of the defined benefit type, providing retirement benefits based on final salary. Accordingly no assets are held in respect of these benefits.

The valuation used for FRS 17 disclosures has been based on a full assessment of the liabilities of the scheme as at 31 December 2012. The present values of the defined benefit obligation, the related current service cost and any past service costs were measured using the projected unit credit method. The principal assumptions used by the independent qualified actuaries to calculate the liabilities under FRS 17 are the same as those used for the Western United Group Pension Scheme in Note 16 (a) above.

The mortality assumptions are based on standard mortality tables which allow for expected future mortality improvements. The assumptions are that a male member currently aged 60 will live on average for a further 29.2 years. For a male member who retires in 2032 at age 60 the assumptions are that they will live on average for a further 31.7 years after retirement.
