Directors' responsibilities

Company law requires the directors to prepare accounts for each financial period that give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the company and of the profit or loss of the company for that period. In preparing those accounts, the directors are required to

- Select suitable accounting policies and then apply them consistently,
- Make judgements and estimates that are reasonable and prudent,
- State whether applicable accounting standards have been followed, subject to any material departures disclosed and explained in the accounts, and
- Prepare the accounts on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the company will continue in business

The directors are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the company and enable them to ensure that the accounts comply with the Companies Act 2006. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the company and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

a Basis of accounting

The accounts are prepared under the historical cost convention and in accordance with applicable Accounting Standards

b Tangible fixed assets

Office Equipment	- 33 3% per annum
------------------	-------------------

c Taxation

Corporation tax payable is provided on taxable profits at the current rate

Deferred taxation (which arises from differences in the timing of the recognition of items, principally depreciation, in the accounts and by the tax authorities) has been calculated on the liability method. Deferred tax is not provided on timing differences that, in the opinion of the directors, will probably not reverse.
