Cash is represented by cash in hand and deposits with financial institutions repayable without penalty on notice of withdrawal. Cash equivalents are readily convertible to known amounts of cash with insignificant risk of change in value.

Short term creditors are measured at transaction price. Long term creditors and loans are measured initially at transaction price, net of transaction costs and are subsequently measured at fair value using the effective interest method.

Debt instruments (other than those wholly repayable or receivable within one year), including loans and other accounts receivable and payable, are initially measured at present value of the future cash flows and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest method.
