Note 1

The financial statements have been prepared on the going concern basis which assumes the ongoing support of the company's principal creditor. In the event that such support is withdrawn, the company would not be able to meet its debts as they fall due and the directors would have to take advice with a view to placing the company into liquidation. Fixed assets would have to be reclassified as current assets, and creditors due after more than one year would need to be reclassified as current liabilities. All assets would have to be stated at net realisable value and due account would have to be taken any additional provision for creditors.
