1. Accounting policies

Basis of accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on a break-up basis. Accordingly, adjustments have been made to provide for any further known liabilities which will arise.

Cash flow statement

The director has taken advantage of the exemption in Financial Reporting Standard No 1 (Revised 1996) from including a cash flow statement in the financial statements on the grounds that the company is small.

Turnover

The turnover shown in the profit and loss account represents amounts receivable during the year from rentals generated by the property, exclusive of Value Added Tax. Income which relates to future periods is included in accruals and deferred income within creditors.

Investment property

The company's investment property is shown at market value in the financial statements with any surplus over the cost being transferred to a revaluation reserve; where revaluation is less than cost and is considered to be permanent in nature, the shortfall is charged to the profit and loss account. Where the fall in value is considered to be temporary, any adjustment is taken to the revaluation reserve.

No depreciation is provided in respect of the company's investment property. Although the Companies Act 2006 would normally require the systematic depreciation of fixed assets, the director believes that this policy of not providing depreciation on investment property is necessary in order for the financial statements to give a true and fair view as market valuation is more relevant than a measure of consumption in the activities of the company. It's the director's policy to maintain the property in good condition thus prolonging its useful life. Depreciation is only one of the many factors reflected in the annual valuation and the amount which might otherwise have been shown cannot be separately identified or quantified.

As the financial statements have not been prepared on a going concern basis, the company's investment property has been reclassified as a current asset in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard No 18.

Tangible assets

Tangible assets are shown at their recoverable value in the financial statements.

Deferred taxation

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date, where transactions or events that result in an obligation to pay more or a right to pay less tax in the future have occurred by the balance sheet date with certain limited exceptions.

A deferred tax asset is regarded as recoverable and therefore recognised only when, on the basis of all available evidence, if can be regarded as more likely than not that there will be suitable taxable profits from which the future reversal of the underlying timing difference can be deducted.

Deferred tax is calculated on an undiscounted basis at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the periods in which the timing differences are expected to reverse, based on tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Financial instruments

Financial instruments are classified and accounted for, according to the substance of the contractual arrangement, as either financial assets, financial liabilities or equity instruments. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the company after deducting all of its liabilities.

2. Fixed assets

As the financial statements have not been prepared on a going concern basis, the company's investment property has been reclassified as a current asset in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard No 18.

The investment property was revalued, on an open market basis, on 15 October 2012 by GVA Grimley Ltd. The director of the company is of the opinion that the value of the investment property at that date is not significantly different to its carrying value in the financial statements.

The historical cost of the investment property is £8,793,099 (2011: £8,793,099).

3. Secured creditors

Included within creditors: amounts falling due within one year is a bank loan of £7,554,266 (2011: £7,554,266).

Bank borrowings were repayable in full by a single instalment on 31 May 2012. Interest is charged on the loan at various rates above LIBOR.
