Directors Report to 31st August 2011

Founded in August 2010 Towards Tomorrow, a social enterprise, champions the transition from a peak oil (global) economy to a low carbon (local) economy, it's ethos is 'Keep it Simple, Keep it Local'

All manner of skills are being lost due to our global society where things are created for us and usually far away. Towards Tomorrow is primarily a training and education company that is all about learning and encouraging individuals, organisations and communities how to do things for themselves, sharing local knowledge and local resources toward becoming strong and resilient, able to manage the change that is underway.

These skills can be anything from baking your own bread to growing your own food or setting up your own local enterprise.

Enid Trevett completed a Fellowship of The School for Social Entrepreneurs 'Motivate to Innovate' 2010 – 2011, and the grants were used to take office space at the e-Centre Alloa for 1 year, purchase essential start up equipment and further capacity building in training and development.

Mike Trevett completed Bread Matters Fundamentals course by Andrew Whitley in July 2011.

Towards Tomorrow has provided session work support for the Disability Awareness Group in the undertaking of their Scottish Natural Heritage 'Learning through Doing' action research project.

The Directors are mindful of creating sufficient working capital and reserves.
